My dear Myrtle,

Eddie has told me
of your sad loss I am so terribly sorry, unfortunately I didn't have the opportunity of seeing Jack while he was in London.

Unfortunately I was not well. I am so terribly sorry for you & if its the day I meet in Phila.

I remember him as being one of the most charming boys I have ever met.

We ourselves have never got over the loss of our Dick,
Millie's husband
and I am afraid poor child neither will she nothing can ever mean the same
to her again what ever she does.

Eddie and I are here having a much needed rest and are enjoying the

please and quiet me
don't get much of it
at home

Again my sympathy
my dear.

Eddie joins me in sending much love
to you and yours.

Fondly,

Bertie
